

OFF Festival Katowice 2013: Mark Fell to Replace Chelsea Wolfe in Festival Lineup

We're sad to announce that Chelsea Wolfe has canceled her appearance at this year's festival. Mark Fell will be taking her place at the Experimental Stage on Saturday.

Mark Fell is a versatile British artist and thinker active on the intersection of contemporary music, digital technology, philosophy, and the visual arts. Though he records regularly for labels like Raster-Noton and Line Records, you're more likely to run into him in lecture halls and museums than at music festivals. His latest piece is an installation titled 64 Beautiful Phase Violations, an experiment in composition performed in an anechoic chamber.

Mark Fell will perform at the Experimental Stage on Saturday, August 3 at 8:45 pm.
